Man wanted after guns found at Christchurch home dies during standoff with police

Police say a 54-year-old man is dead after a overnight standoff with police, following the discovery of guns at a property.

In a statement this morning, Police Commissioner Mike Bush said a search warrant was issued yesterday at a St Martins address where police found a number of firearms.

Police then sought a 54-year-old man over the guns, but he died during a subsequent standoff with police.

Police located the man inside a stopped vehicle in the Richmond Park area about 12.30am today, but he refused to get out of his vehicle.

A police negotiation team spoke with him over a number of hours, and a police helicopter was called in, as well as Armed Offender Squad members.

About 3.40am, police approached the vehicle and found that the man was critically injured with what looked to be a stab wound - a knife was found in the vehicle.

Members of the public reported hearing gunshots, but police said that was the sound of gas canisters being deployed.

Mr Bush said a high priority investigation is underway to find out whether or not this man posed a threat to the community.

Further searches of properties and interviews with family and associates will be carried out.

Mr Bush said that, at this time, there is no evidence to suggest the man was connected to the March 15 terrorist attack, but that they are looking at any potential link.

Police will remain in the area of Richmond Park and St Martins as scene examinations continue.

Mr Bush said he was grateful to the members of the public who had reported the suspicious activity of the man.

I dunno about New Zealand specifically, but in most countries, the police have no duty to protect anyone, ever. They're fully allowed to just let a hostage taker kill all the hostages as long as they enforce the law in the end.

Better hope you don't have an SUV when the truck of peace rolls into town or you're going to be killed by the police, who will then try to make it look like a suicide.

I wish hellfire and white phosphorous upon people who use that word incorrectly. I didn't quite make that claim, but I just asked wtf zionists have to do with the current situation in New Zealand. There is very little zionist presence here and all that is associated with the right. This was about muslims and the gun control came as a result of them shooting muslims. Yet apparently we're controlled by israel now? It makes no sense.

For instance, the left and media here is attacking a jewish/israeli nationalist in Australia associated with the far-right who they said egged on the shooter and inspired the attack by posting anti-immigration stuff. Sounds weird if the zionists are the ones behind the angry reaction to the shooting.

The implication here is that jews don't want muslims in White countries, which the track record in jewish controlled nations like England, France, Germany, and the US doesn't support. They are exceedingly comfortable flooding these countries with muslims.

 Israele is not behind refugees to the West.

 Most migrants to the West come from places Israel has nothing to do with such as Mexico, Africa, Afghanistan, Honduras, etc..

 In New Zealand the biggest source of immigrants come from Indonesia and the most refugee asylum applicants are from Somalia. Neither are the victim of Israeli attacks that forced them there.

 Kinda, it's a well known fact that leftists from reddit and tumblr invaded 4chan on mass after the 2016 elections and are basically trying to stamp out anything even remotely ""right wing"" (gun ownership falling into that category in their eyes).
 Of course they can't just outright say "guns are bad, stop liking guns!" on a board dedicated to liking guns, so they have to take a slightly more subtle approach and try to slowly and surely sway the general opinion, stuff like this presents a perfect opportunity for them because they can shit on anyone not outright damning anything related to the shooter without anyone really calling them out.

 They also go after most gun celebs, notice how before the election period most folk liked forgotten weapons and afterwards you can't make a single thread without maybe 5-10 IP's shitposting so hard about Karl being a Satanist and Ian being a commie that the thread is basically unusable?

 Being pro-Muslim to spite Jews is the final form of being ultra far-right.

The small amounts of Neo-Nazi groups in Europe (such as the Jobbiks pictured there) are generally pro-Muslim. Their plan is to flood the West with enough muslims to have all the jews killed and maybe Israel destroyed in the process from cutting it off. That this will also kill the West is a necessary sacrifice in their eyes.

David Duke is increasingly turning to this, see him endorsing the far-left feminist BLM Muslim open borders socialist Ilhan Omar because she's anti-Israel.

Western governments are largely illegitimate.

You cant count on a democratic system to function in a nation which has a self interested minority which controls the media and financial institutions.

Israel has a wall, America does not.

Israel has deported their refugees, Europe has not and never will. Infact, Israel sent many of their migrants to Europe.

They're called lobbyists my friend, and they don't force, they persuade with money. Why do you think so many American politicians do the dog and pony show for AIPAC? They want those campaign war bucks so they can win their seat. Then when it's time to call in that favor against {random country neighboring Israel}, the Great Satan comes in and lays down the hurt. That activity creates refugees, and they will be resettled in Europe or elsewhere. Might not be the primary intent, but it's mass migration is certainly a side effect of US/Israeli cooperation, as it is a natural byproduct of civil war and regime change.

>Israel sent many of their migrants to Europe.

No they didn't.

There are two specific circumstances where this myth comes up:

1.) Israel tried to send their migrants to Rwanda as part of a deal. Germany, Canada, etc opposed this and said it was racist. Israel gave them the middle finger and said "fine you take them then". The Europeans/Trudeau backed off. No migrants were sent there

2.) Israel paid its migrants to leave, Sweden offered to take them in once they became stranded in the Mediterranean. Israel did not force them into Sweden. Italy refused a Migrant boat and

Spain eventually took them in. Does this mean Italy is behind Muslim immigration to Spain? I doubt it Listen, I'm a national socialist, notice that last word there, but anybody with a functioning brain can tell you that it is the left wing party in every nation that is supporting the bulk of immigration.

The labor party in the UK sent out search teams to direct swarms of migrants. They went to random countries to tell people to come to Britain.

The right wing parties are complicit in this as they do nothing to stop it. Odd that they are also owned by Jews financially. (8/10 of the top Republican donors were Jewish in the 2016 election)

Most migrants to Europe are from Africa and Central Asia. Not from Iraq or Syria even if you blame Israel for those wars.

>Jews are vastly over-represented in the supreme court and among the worst offenders of activist judges.

I don't know what to call them, but they call themselves Jews. They are not orthodox Jews you see doing temple worship, but largely secular ethnic Jews. I am simply stating facts which should rightfully be recognized.

Labour in UK is distinctly anti-Israel and is basically openly anti-semitic by this point

UKIP (anti-immigration) is supportive of Israel

Most Jews voted for Brexit, precisely due to opposition to immigration

As far as sinister behavior, don't get me wrong, if I was a tribe surrounded on all sides by people who wanted to march me into the fucking sea, I would be doing whatever I could to curry favor as well, good statesmanship. It makes absolute sense, existentially, for Israel to keep its neighbors/enemies off-balance, destabilized, neutered. But that process of destabilization championed by the neo-cons/Israel created the refugee migration problem.

The fact it was written by a supposedly Jewish people does not exonerate whites and put the blame on Jewish people as a whole.

This doesn't take cultural differences into account. Jews have a culture that emphasizes education and success. Whites have a culture that emphasizes opioids and corn syrup guzzling.

For instance, even a high IQ black is still less likely to be successful as a medium IQ White. This is also due to cultural reasons.

 No, I am not bothered by "success" of others.
 Merely, if AA was applied equally there would be far less Jews and far more whites at these "top" institutions, 2% or so Jews and ~60% whites proportionately. Oddly, if there was no AA that would also be the case.

High level institutions operate more like a good-old-boys club for the elite with minorities to fill in the numbers.

 History is cyclical, when lawmakers have to make anti-Semitic speech illegal, that is not occurring in a vacuum. Casual Jew hate is popular, maybe getting more popular, I do not know. When you have bleeding hearts going BDS and voting in the Omars, and their right wing opposition also hating on Jews (maybe they'll grow up, maybe they'll shift left and turn into neo-Strasserists), you have a pretty wide swath of people united against the general existence of your state as is. I have no doubt about the capabilities or competence of Israel, but fifty years from now, will the US even be the same US that views Israel as 'the Greatest Ally'?

And jews say that they are successful because they are smart, while whites are successful because of white privilege. Who is jewing who here? And why doesnt question stand who is whitening who? Still, blacks just repeat what they hear on media and you probably realize who controls the media. Fun fact, in my country it is actually illegal to say that one specific group controls media.

Anyway, religion/ethnicity based nepotism doesnt exist among whites in mostly white countries, but it is completely common among nonwhites in white countries, especially jews, and anyone working in it can see this trend with indians (and Im not talking about h1b stuff).

I mean it'd be painfully obvious as soon as a North Korean nuke went off who sold it. And then NK would pay the price for facilitating a nuclear act of terrorism.

NK isn't that suicidal.

As for Iran, if they do develop nukes eventually they could nuke Israel but would die in the process to Israeli and potentially other retaliation (a nuclear power using its nukes in an act of aggression would make all the other nuclear powers quite uneasy). Do you really think Iran is that crazy? If the answer is yes, then maybe the Israeli's are right when they say Iran is a threat to the world.

>nigger I live in Europe myself and I can tell you exactly how that "legit reason" shit goes, based on actual court verdicts can confirm that, not even court verdicts needed, because we dont have constitutional right to carry, but friend who worked in pawn shop got his application for carry license denied because working with thousands of euros in cash daily apparently wasnt good enough reason, then he read somewhere on gun forum, that being attacked or robbed can be considered valid reason and "luckily" some 15 years ago he was attacked, beaten and robbed, so he put it into his application and it got oked

he was then making jokes that only thing you need to get license is to get beaten and survive, reality is it still depends on actual policeman that gets your application and he even was told few times by other policemen they would not accept 15y old attack and robbery as valid reason dont give up your guns burgers, whatever they say a properly trained belgian malinoi a zechoslovakian wolfdog or vlcak as they are known or a regular k9 if you cant dominate on the rest are just as good as a gun (assuming you actually train them on a famous trainer that knows the importance of them to remain silent till someone brakes in) the vlcaks especially because they are just 2 generations ahead of the actual wolfs they retain much of their agility and intelligence and the pack mentality we use them regulary in certain areas because of that

How many of those boomers were hippies when they were young? Now they are old and presumably have spent the last 40 years going 'what the fuck' at the world in between trying to win the lottery and getting divorces, before finally trickling down to the mammoth graveyard where life savings/inheritance go to die that is FL. My parents just arrived there this month.

I am too fat and happy with the current system to be angry, more just disturbed by what is considered 'normal' these days. I really am just stacking cash to get a cabin in the woods and get the fuck away from the Machine, but real estate is expensive if you want to live in style.

 if having knives in house makes you want to stab people, go see a doctor, you are mentally ill, also please stop projecting your mental illness on other people as for dogs, they are much harder to train than is learning to use guns, they also need much more maintenance, upkeep, you cant take them with you easily and they are still living beings with their own minds that can snap and be dangerous to other people and animals - and thats even with police training and despite their handlers will not only that you should fucking be put on a mental hospital if you own them

>if having knives in house makes you want to stab people politicians are not people they represent everything that is wrong with the country killing them is killing their ideas

police dogs are very different from dogs that are deployed on a battlefield the wolfdogs we use they arent trained as intense as a k9 or those belgian ones because they retain the sense of a pack to them your team is a pack and they dont stay near you they always are scouting around there is a very big difference between them but i admit getting such dog to love you and trust you is way harder due to its wolf nature but if you manage to overcome that you have basically a killing machine and an super hunter in case you wanna eat some rabbits or deers or or or the only downside they have is that they do not forget if you treat them badly they will treat you as a threat to them and they will end you

In my central europoor country the price of young german shepherd trained as watchdog is around 1000€, for defense 2000€ and up. Just the dog and they arent even close to level of police dogs. >instability

lol

>I guess it's no wonder you like having the state restrict your rights and tell you how you're allowed to rim its corrupt asshole and think it's an utopia we never had any rights like this to begin with but go ahead european >putting aside the fact that there's no correlation between legal gun ownership and gun violence, how is it any worse than any other kind of violence?

i dont know what is the purpose on slapping irrelevant fields when we are talking about a specific one?

maybe to just move the goalposts?

>weren't you the same one talking about specific breeds and getting them trained by someone famous?

yes and how much you pay to get an actual train on how to use guns anon?

or you gonna assume that someone with zero knowledge is somewhat better?

she only covers the "family" part of them

He's calling Israel an illegitimate terrorist state, that being said, it's just words until Turkey gets the fuck out of NATO, and that's just a matter of time. They want a parting gift like the F-35 (you know, like Israel flies) to remove the lunenburg lens and figure out just how to shoot them down with Russian ADA. Get a US with a president who is non-interventionist, and I wouldn't be surprised if Erdogan or someone like him decided to finish off some thorns (PKK) in his side for good, maybe have another genocide to deny.

>we never had any rights and yet you're perfectly happy having none, even going as far as to beg the government you apparently despise to give you even less which brings me to my original point, you're no different than cattle

>muh moving goalposts

there is no moving in goalposts, you just pull some bullshit out of your ass (in this case, pissing your pants about some people dying in a specific way) only to start screeching when your bullshit is put into perspective

again, find a good rebuttal instead of stomping your feet like a child

>muh guns are expensive

not really, the used market is a thing and it's not going away anytime soon

>muh training is expensive not as much as you'd expect, really you can learn o shoot better than half the police corps by just going to the range regularly, their yearly shooting qualification requirements are fucking laughable

besides, it would be cheaper if it weren't for a certain someone taxing it into oblivion

>muh no knowledge

are you really so dense to think that learning how to handle a gun is dark magic?

ffs the entire handling course in my country is a couple of hours long, exam included

you cant seriously expect people reply line by line to every post by someone who says that having knives makes him want to stab people and because he wants to do it, others want it too and thats valid reason to disarm everyone actual funny thing is, that you can see such projection mostly from "liberal" people who preach "tolerance"

You are just being trolled you autistic. Anyone who comes to the altar of the /k/ube knows the allure of firepower, the addictive nature of it, that little taste that once sent your heart racing and filled you with anxiety now does nothing. You always want more. It's a joy to share that feeling with others.

Epigenetics, man, if you've grown up in poverty and malnourished, even with great genes you aren't going to be all the man you could have been. Doesn't mean your genetic template is bad. Likewise, without training, how do you even know what talents you have? You might be the best autistic at reading satellite images, but if your host culture is not even at that level, you'll just be another odd boy.

>muh out of context

I don't even have to do that, you're deranged enough to want to stab people by mere virtue of having a knife in your house and thinks this is a legitimate basis for a ban while at the same time hating the government, whatever I say can't be too far off the mark considering how much of a faggot you are >and never will sure, if everyone's as much of a spineless cockgobbler as you are I'd believe it >if you were """"""european"""" you would have already know that I don't need to prove shit to you, and even if I weren't that is still not reason enough to just lie down and take it like the bitch you are >muh proper gun training

 yes it is less than buying a dog, even with all the licensing you're looking at what, 1000 euros total investment (including licensing, buying a gun and the ammo to practice with)?
 a dog would cost you 1000+ if you want a specific breed, plus training, plus taking care of it (food, medical expenses, etc.), plus taxes so not only are you a brainlet with reading, you're also a fucking potato with simple arithmetics >muh confidence
 nigger confidence comes with regular practice, even going to the range twice a year gives you more training than half the police force gets, and those are the fuckups you trust with guns because muh expert training >not everyone can build confidence not faggots like you, that's for sure
